Re: Utilization of L2755

Dear Mr. Mattear:

I am writing on behalf of the American Orthotic & Prosthetic Association (AOPA) Coding and Reimbursement Committee (CRC) regarding your recent request for coding assistance relative to proper utilization of HCPCS code L2755- Addition to lower extremity orthosis, high strength, lightweight material, all hybrid lamination/prepreg composite, per segment for custom fabricated orthosis only.

The AOPA Coding and Reimbursement has reviewed the question of utilization of this code in the past and it is the opinion of the committee that the number of units of L2755 reported on a claim form should be congruent with the number of anatomical segments that meet the material requirements for L2755. For example, a traditional custom fabricated AFO (L1960), that was fully laminated would be properly reported as 2 units of L2755, one for the calf section and one for the footplate

If I can be of any further assistance, please contact me at (571) 431-0811 or jmcternan@aopanet.org.

Sincerely,

Joe McTernan
Director of Coding & Reimbursement Services, Education and Programming
